BANGON, BATANGAS!

Stronghold Insurance's Relief Operations for Taal Volcano Eruption Victims

With the recent Taal Volcano's emission of rocks and ashes that blanketed nearby towns, Stronghold Insurance Company, Inc. conducted relief operations in the municipalities of Alitagtag and San Luis in Batangas on January 25, 2020 for the victims of the eruption.

More than 300 families staying in the evacuation centers of Alitagtag College - Pinagkurusan Branch (Aligatag) and Calumpang East Elementary School (San Luis) received food, drinking water and toiletries. The evacuees all came from towns that are currently under complete lockdown and that have been destroyed by the ash and recurring earthquakes.

In coordination with the municipalities' LGUs, the relief operations were spearheaded by Stronghold Insurance's Head Office and extension offices, Makati Annex and Manila Service Office (with the participation of the company's Makati Branch and Southern Tagalog Regional Office). Personally present in the event were the company's corporate officers Atty. Florentino H. Garces, Senior Vice President; Mr. Nestor B. Liwanag, Jr., First Vice President; Mr. Alexander R. Dumapilis, Vice President; Mr. Jose T. Vallejos, Jr., Assistant Vice President; and Regional and Branch Managers.

Although it's undeniable that it would take a lot to rise up from the tragedy, the overflowing donations and help, not just from Stronghold Insurance but from various organizations and individuals both locally and internationally, all contribute to Batangas's small steps toward recovery.

After all, far thicker than Taal Volcano's ash fall are the Batangueños' resilience and everyone's compassion in these trying times.
